Forecast For Wales
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Saturday 17 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cold and frosty overnight, dry and bright for most Sunday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Another dry night, with most cloud gradually clearing through the evening. These clear spells will allow for a widespread frost to form. Cloud will begin to build again from the west through the early hours. Feeling cold. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Sunday:
A cold, frosty, start with hazy sunshine, then a dry and bright day following for most. Patchy light rain is possible for the far northwest. Cold overnight with widespread frost. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Dry sunny spells on Monday. Turning cloudier with a few scattered showers possible on Tuesday and Wednesday, but still with the odd sunny spell likely. Nights gradually becoming milder.
